Citusbille Morning Berald. ANNOUNCEMENTS CRAWFORD COUNTY

VENANGO COUNTY.

From the New York Tribune.

The election yesterday in this city passed off very quietly. The day was cool, cloudy and dry, and the vote polled, was remarkably light. There was no riot or disorder, and, comparativoly, few arrests for illegal-voting. Very little interest was manifested, except in the few wards where there was a chance for the election of la Republican or Independent candidate for Assistant Alderman. Despite the general apathy, "repenting" was carried on with unusual boldness, wherever Tammany thought it necessary to rebuke the Young Democracy or to forestall a possible Republican victory. Gangs under the alleged leadership of Jim Custck, George Mitchell, and other tools of the Tweed "Ring" made themselves very busy, and were severely and unaccountably let alone by the Inspectors and policemen, who should have stopped them. In one instance, the "repeaters" were paid 50 cents apiece "the tribeted of the colored population, was the yet note worthy phase of the elective framine by the colored population. There were 2,379 colored voters registered in this state last was the passe of the election.

more than one-third of the colored popu-lation, the negroes were almost claunish in their Republicanism. One or two colositing a Democratic ballot was punched the head for his stupidity. The Afri-in citizen was decidedly on the political Pammany, and he will flee from you." Negroes distributed ballots with much render: The officer replied that he was under the orders of the Inspectors of Election while there, and could not arrest any one without their orders. No such orders were given by them, and the voter coolly walked away, much to the disgust of the magistrate. The explanation of this singular proceeding is to be found in the fact that Justice Hogan affiliates with the Young Democracy.

James Powers and F. Kerrigan, Democratic Inspectors of Election in the First District of the Fourth Ward, were removed in consequence of allowing persons to vote whose names did not appear on the poll Ests.

Charles Jewell and Wm. H. Hogan, Inspectors in the Fifth and Sixth Districts of the Seventeenth Ward, were removed for irregularities in receiving yotes.

The legal vote of the city was about half polled yesterday; but the "Elegal was out in all its glory. In most of the lower Wards, more fraudulent than lawful votes were east; some of the voters making a day of it by voting from poll to poll—sometimes in the names of legal voters whom they falsely represented.

The men who misrule and rob our city are fully aware of these villcinies. All the machinery of Police and of Justice is completely in their hands. The, could, by simply holding up a menacing land, completely in their hands. The, could, by simply holding up a menacing hand, stop these frauds at once; they do not, because they pay for and profit by them. Let us see what they will say and do of yesterday's performance in their interest and for their benefit. The Greek Tragedy. IRCUMSTANTIAL ACCOUNT OF AFTER

The Greek Brigands.

The following extracts from a private letter from a traveler in Greece, written a few days before the tragic catastrophe which closed the brigand raid, mentions some new and significant facts, which, while they do not mitigate the atrocity, soften the grief under which the people of Athens are now suffering, and to absolve the Greek national character from the stain those events have left, and also to make apparent the difficult position in which the Greek government is placed:

"ATHEXS, April 20, 1870.

"A deep gloum hangs over the people; messenger from the estate of a Greek get tleman, which is situated in the vicinity tleman, which is situated in the vicinity of the village where the brigand band is now resting, reports that they say that nothing less than an amnesty will be accepted. The constitution utterly prevents any such act of grace on the part of the Crown, excepting for political offences when they have been tried by the judiciary.

"It has been ascertained that there is but one Greek in the band. They are all Albanians; and there is a little of the Hellenic nature in that race, which has always been despised by the Greeks. Byron says: "Fierce are Albania's children [what must Albania's children [what must Albania's children [what must Albania's othiaws be?]. No people are so detested and dreaded by ditors Morning Herald : As the HERALD is the representative nd leading petroleum journal of the country, I presume upon the interest felt by Minutes of last regular meeting and you in all that pertains to the same, so far as to send you a brief account of a visit to the burning and gas wells of Sandy during the past week.

The "Burning Well," as it is called, is

county, between main Sandy Creek and the branches of same. It is about fifteen niles from Oil City, in a southeasterly direction This well was drilled in 1866 unn the lands of and by a Philadelphia oil company. It was drilled to a depth of 850 feet to the third sand rock. After drilling a short distance into this a heavy and-vein was met with, the tools becam fastèned in same, and have never since een removed. The well was tubed at the time, and testing commenced. In a very hors time the force of the gas became so great as to burst the seed bug The tubing was being drawn when the The tubing was being drawn when the rope broke and six hundred of same dropped into the well. Operations were then suspended. A good show of oil was apparent in all the sand rocks. When abandoned the gas-came from the well in immense volumes, throwing occasionally a large amount of both water and oil. The gas became fired by some means, and continued to burn for some time, the light of the training with the same continued to burn for some time, the light of tinued to ourn for some time, the light of it being, visible for many miles. In 1833, Mr. J. B. Benton obtaining a lease of the ourning well and several acres adjoin-ing, went to work to get the well in some shape whereby he could test or control it. shape whereby he could test or control it. Being one of our most practical operators, he soon succeeded in doing this. The tubing was removed, but the tools remain. Upon effecting this he commenced the drilling of a new well a short distance. winter. Had the well been cased, it would doubtless have proved highly pro-ductive. So great has been the force of the gas in the new well, that it is only within the past few weeks that they have been enabled to pump it to any advantage. At the time of our visit the well was pumping with an excellent show. The burning well has been flowing gas, water and oil for over four years, and its force seems unimpaired. The gas comes force seems unimpaired. The gas comes from the well at an estimated pressure of fully two hundred pounds to the square inch, could the same be confined to proper dimensions. This would be capable of lifting to the surface 15,000 to 20,000 barrels of oil per day. And no doubt this pressure could be materially increased. The gas from the new well seems to be greater than that from the old, in both volume and force. Nor is there any apparent dimini-hing on the part of the older well.

The new well is now being pumped, and the capine is run by the pressure of the

I consider the whole affair as one of the most remarkable exhibitions of nature's forces extant, and that wells are worthy the attention of the scientific and curious. The application of the gas in this shape also involves a principle that will soon or late work an entire revolution in application of motive power, vizithe dispensing with heat as a requisite; the temperature of the gas as it comes from the wells is extremely cold, chilling the hands.
